Dairymen Clobber Meat Producers, Consumers In House Vote

Fort Worth, Texas, November 17, 1983 Forty-eight Pages, Two Sections

Stuph & Thangs

EVERY TH' ELECTRONIC AGE YIT ... ?

Every once in a while we get to thinkin' about how our civilization and other modern conveniences are changin' up that we with our limited intelligence, not only can't understand 'em, but for the most part don't dare try. One of these things that is utterly beyond our comprehension is computers, electronic communications and satellites, etc. Another thing that boggles our brains is some of the stories we hear and read about concernin' how hundreds of thousands of dollars, even tens of millions of dollars, are stolen by people with access to electronic data and communications.

When teen age kids can tap highly secret Govmint information and upset th' Govmint, banks, businesses, etc., it makes one shudder at what even more sophisticated outlaws may be up to. This

Payment in Cash Subsidy Wins, Goes To Conference Committee Substantially Like Senate Version Passed Earlier

The milk producers lobby trounced the combined efforts of cattlemen, swine producers, consumers and the Administration last Wednesday in the controversy over the price support program for the dairy industry and the so-called "payment in cash" for not producing milk in the hands of a Senate-House conference committee. The proposed bill will pay milk producers $10 per hundred for up to a 30% reduction in milk production. The legislation favored by milk producers had been the target of an unusual alliance of red meat, poultry producers and consumers, but the dairymen whose co-operatives pumped $1.8 million into congressional races in the 1982 elections were also credited with a masterful lobbying effort to achieve a whopping 325-91 vote for their bill.

Earlier the House had turned down by 250-174 the proposed bill offered by Rep. Barber Conable which would have simply rolled back the milk price support of $1.50 per hundred. The crux of the controversy has been the piling up in storage of stocks of dry milk, cheese and butter in Government storage created by Government purchases of surplus milk production. Meat producers opposed the dairymen's program fearing that as dairy cows were culled it would severely depress beef and pork prices and poultrymen, also in a bind by rising feed costs, felt these half million to one million cull dairy cows would also increase their problems.

Pushed hard by the major regional dairy cooperatives, the industry's "compromise" plan would begin paying farmers next year nearly 80 percent of full price for milk they do not produce. Dairy industry advocates claimed their so-called "paid diversion" program would virtually eliminate the government's dairy stockpile within two years. The plan would pay farmers $10 per hundred pounds to cut up to 30 percent of their milk output.

The current price-support program for dairy products dates to 1949, but milk producers never have been paid on a national scale not to produce. Such programs have been reserved primarily for grain farmers.

"It's not paying them not to work," said Rep. Tom Daschle, D-S.D. "It's assisting them in maintaining their overhead."

The measure is similar to the dairy portion of a dairy-tobacco bill passed earlier by the Senate. It now goes to a House-Senate negotiating committee to work out differences and for a decision on whether to accept the Senate provisions fine-tuning the tobacco price-support program.

Rep. Barber Conable, R-N.Y., who sponsored the rejected alternative calling for a simple cut in price supports, predicted that President Reagan would veto the industry's dairy bill.

"They (the administration) have tried to play the game with these pirates up in the Agriculture Committee, and they're going to lose their eye teeth if they continue," Conable told reporters after his

NCA Comment On Dairy Legislation

NCA and its affiliated organizations are very disappointed that the Conable amendment to House dairy legislation was not passed (Nov. 9) by the U.S. House of Representatives. (The Conable amendment would have reduced the dairy price support level by up to $1.50/cwt. and would have eliminated a provision for a $10/cwt. government payment for reducing milk production.) The association remains concerned that the "compromise" dairy bill's "PIC" (payment-in-cash) provision will result in a substantial increase in dairy cow slaughter in coming months and in additional pressure on already depressed cattle and beef prices.

Also, it is feared that, once the 15-month dairy "PIC" period is completed, milk cow numbers will be increased again—causing a repeat of recent costly problems for both consumers and the livestock industries.

The House bill now goes to conference with a similar Senate-passed measure. Both bills contain "orderly marketing" amendments, but those provisions have been described by USDA and other officials as "complicated" and "unworkable." A presidential veto of the final bill has been suggested as a possibility. Preliminary indications were that, in view of political considerations in Congress and the administration, odds were against a vote.

The recent experience with interim price support legislation suggests the need for non-price-supported commodity groups to become more involved in formulating longer range farm policies that have a direct impact on members of their industries. The NCA board of directors previously directed that NCA become involved in farm policy matters.

Fed Beef Market Called 'Bullish'

FEEDS

FROM THE HEART OF THE ROCKIES.

A Testimonial...

"This past winter I used Prorich supplemental feed on my cow herd. I was very pleased with the results. As the cattle came through the winter in better condition than ever before. The cattle skinned off immediately and cycled earlier. Having used different feeds in the past I can appreciate the value of the Prorich formula."

include shares and/or interests in Tiny as well as in his well-known sons Granada of Brinks and Big Foot of Brinks. Other breed leaders Brinks Tremor 193M15, DMA King 090, Brinks Titan 467P (Tiempo), Brinks Hopi 599K (Signal), Trojan of Brinks and Thunder of Brinks sell as will 3/4 Blood bulls Brinks Silver Brave, Brinks Racerata 688K (Black Rex) and Bravo of Brinks.

In addition to the breed's Sire-of-the-Year, the sale includes winners of four International Grand Championships

King (1982), Signal (1981) and Tiempo (1979 and 1980). Another bull selling - Tremor - was 1983 Reserve International Grand Champion, standing second to Extra of Brinks, his full brother out of the same embryo flush.

In the same show Tiny's progeny won 12 classes and four division grands or reserves, one grand championship and the get.

The breed's only Triple Crown winners are represented in the sale too. Tiny sired the only female to win the honor, King is the only bull to be won in. And King has set more than show records - he established a breed auction record recently when 1/8 interest sold during the Granada Sale at $431,000 to Pyramid Land & Cattle Co. and Riley Brangus.

In addition to the proven bulls a strong set of two-year-olds and several younger bulls will sell starting at 1 P.M. on Saturday, January 21, 1984, at the Brinks Brangus Sales & Performance Center, Slaterdale, Texas. Information can be obtained by contacting the office at (512) 824-6811.

The Wassons did it again. A "burn burner" this year's Wasson Futurity was better than ever. Better quality, higher prices, very well attended and parties and cowboy contest were outstanding.

58 lots averaged $3,464.00. High selling lot was a one-half embryo interest in Wasson cow 300/9 that sold to Macon Gravelle of Fayette, Alabama for $15,000.00. Second high selling entry was Chaparral Ranches entry 1/1172 that sold to Ozark Valley Farms, Mountain Home, Arkansas for $10,000.00. Other standouts in the sale were El Colina Ranches 140/1 to David Abramson of Pinson, Alabama; King Ranch 2000 to Ozark Valley; La Paloma Ranch 613/1 to Ozark Valley; Nine Bar Ranch 297 to Stagecoach Ranch of Dade City, Florida; and Simon Peter Bond 213 to Porter Dunnaway and David Abramson of Alabama.

The placing on the top five heifers was Chaparral Ranch, 1st; Nine Bar Ranch, 2nd; Mayfair Ranch, 3rd; Porter Rodgers, 4th; and LaPaloma Ranch, 5th.

CS Ranch of Riesel, Texas had the World Champion Santa Gertrudis Cowboy Team; while the Delta Santa Gertrudis Association had the World Champion Santa Gertrudis Cooking Team with Warren Updike as head chef.

The day after "The Futurity", the Pioneer Breeders Santa Gertrudis Sale got off to a good start. The oldest calves were 14 months old with most of them being born January '83 and after. They averaged in excess of $4,100.00. All of the cattle in this sale are eligible for the Sweepstakes and can also come back for the "Syndicate Futurity" in 1984 and run at $60,000.00 prize money. High selling lot was Porter Rodgers Farms, April 1, 1983 bull calf 108/3, out of "Saint Nick" 903 that sold to Bo Johnson, Cash, Arkansas for $20,000.00. Second high selling lot was El Colina's 340/2 who was a full sister to

1983 National Santa Gertrudis Show Won By Nine Bar & Diamond S

Two-hundred-nine head of Santa Gertrudis cattle competed for national championship titles at the 1983 National Santa Gertrudis Show, September 30, at the Tulsa State Fair, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

National Grand Champion Santa Gertrudis female is 317/1 Diamond S Ranch, 877/1 is an April, 1981, cow sired by Winrock Farms 16081 and out of a Diamond S Cow. Diamond S Ranch is owned by Gene Phillips, Dallas.

Their "Futurity" entry. She is an own daughter of Christmas 13/7. She sold to Max Williams and Bill Ward, Dallas, Texas for $18,000.00. Second high selling bull and third high selling lot was also sold by El Colina. Their own son of "Gator" 35/0, "Gatorade" 35G/2 sold to Porter Dunnaway, Madison, Alabama for $17,500.00. Second high selling female was La Paloma Ranch 3/3 that sold to the "Big 3" for $8,000.00. The "Big 3" being Double Circle Ranch, Franklin, Texas; Dennis and Beth Drake, Houston; and Terry Ranch of Liberty.

A big thanks goes out to the Wassons of Poteau America for a grand time had by all.

The "American Original" Santa Gertrudis Sale of Proven Products is off and running. This is the S.G.B.I. sponsored sale that will be held in conjunction with the 1984 Annual Meeting in Atlanta, Georgia on March 28rd. If you haven't sent in your entry, do so today. If you have any questions, give me a call and I will try to answer them for you.

Pass the word around - Santa Gertrudis are NUMBER ONE (#1) in membership and registration among all the "sired" cattle. There must be a reason!

See you down the road.....

Texas Reserve National Champion Female is 108/1, L & L Farms, Decatur, Arkansas. 108/1 is a March, 1981 cow sired by Cosgrove 1/8 and out of an L & L Farms cow.

Nine Bar Ranch, Hempstead, Texas, exhibited Nine Bar 1615 for the National Grand Champion Santa Gertrudis Bull. 1615 is a February, 1981, bull by T-S Ranch C286, and out of a Nine Bar cow. Reserve Champion Santa Gertrudis Bull is 0/171, Bill Deagen and Sons, Sutherland Springs, Texas. His sire is Chaparral Ranch 163, and he is out of a Bill Deagen and Sons cow.

Best of Polled Female was won by L & L Farms, with Cosgrove Ranches, Coalgate, OK, winning the Best of Polled Bull.

Diamond S Ranch 317/1, owned by Diamond S Ranch, Achille, Oklahoma, was the champion female of the 1983 National Santa Gertrudis Show in Tulsa, OK.

Commodities Comment

WEEK ENDING NOV. 10
Most commodity markets have performed nicely over the past several trading days. However, there has been no "bullish" development to firm up prices. Rather, the overall market psychology has done a turn-around and many markets have moved higher in price. Most traders consider markets such as the Dow Jones, precious metals, bonds, currencies and soybeans as "bell weather" indicators for other markets. And these markets have moved higher in recent days and thus the psychology has been much more positive for rising markets. Let's hope this positive attitude will remain around for a while. I don't believe our economy is as nearly as bad as recent price action suggests.

On the Chicago Board of Trade this week the corn market has been the real gleam in the "bulls' eye. Corn prices have gained 7 cents this week, while beans and wheat have actually declined over the same period. The fundamental market news is still old hat. Short crops, huge demand and a strong U.S. Dollar keep pushing and pulling prices in all directions. The charts still look topsy for grains, but seasonal lows could be in place. The "bulls" are still looking for beans to top $10 per bushel and corn to touch $4. At this writing November beans closed at $5.51, December corn at $3.59 and December wheat at $3.56.

Livestock prices remain choppy and without leadership. Most news has been "bearish", but the market has been ignoring it. Over the past week of trading cattle prices have gained over $1 in relationship to hog prices. This was caused by two main reasons. First, hog slaughter remains quite large and secondly, a negative impact of the Dairy bill on cattle prices appears will be minimal. Sharp breaks in livestock prices are becoming more and more remote. The news is and probably will continue to be quite "bearish" through November. At this writing February cattle closed at $60.67, February hogs at $46.17, and February bellies at $60.67.

Which Way From Here?
I'm "bullish" on grain prices and will remain so for the near term. You've heard my arguments for weeks now, I won't bore you with them again. Price action is "bullish" one day and "bearish" the next. Watching soybean prices is like watching a school of fish. First there here, then they're there. I believe seasonal lows have been made in the grains. Buy the breaks.

I'm only going to be positive toward livestock prices well into 1984! Let me just mention a few of my reasons for being so "bullish" toward cattle prices and livestock in general:

1. Trading volume for cattle future has been excellent.
2. Dressed beef prices have firmed up lately and the product is in good shape.

3. Commercial interests are usually on the buy side of the cattle market.

4. Most importantly, the livestock markets have ignored a tremendous amount of "bearish" news. That is extremely important when viewed in the over context of the futures markets.

There are many reasons for being a "bull" toward cattle and hog prices down the road. I still see interest rates edging downward, more people going back to work, people spending more on food, and fewer animal numbers, and the psychology is beginning to turn bullish.

Most futures prices have been on the decline since last spring. It's not that you can't build a "bull" case for many markets, it's just that the overall market psychology is so negative. The foundation is in place for many markets to move substantially higher over the long term. I see this in cattle especially. Once we get past the next month or so there should be clear sailing ahead for livestock prices. I just can't see the "bear" argument at current levels and under current conditions for cattle. I'm "bullish" and comfortable with the position. However, I'd like to see Richard Simmons show off the air. — Jerry Welch, Commodity Specialist.

Stocker Calf Trade Show Slated Jan. 5

College Station — Falls County, the self-proclaimed stocker calf capital of Texas, is hosting the first ever Texas Stocker Calf Trade Show next January.

The event will be Jan. 5 at the National Guard Armory just east of Marlin on Farm Road 147. Registration will begin at 1:30 p.m. and is free until 3 p.m., after which time a $4 fee will be charged.

Highlighting the trade show will be 18 mini-seminars sponsored by allied animal and agricultural industries, points out Ronnie Leps, Falls County Extension agent.

In addition, two featured speakers will address the stocker calf industry at a 7 p.m. program. They are Dr. Rod A. Bowling, vice president for research and development and quality assurance with Monfort of Colorado, Inc., and Dr. Gary C. Smith, head of the Department of Animal Science of Texas A&M University.

"We are extremely proud to host the Stocker Calf Trade Show because of the tremendous stocker calf industry we have in Falls County," says Leps. "The stocker calves in our county on wheat and ryegrass pasture and another 60,000 head in surrounding counties."

"The stocker calf industry is growing rapidly in our area," notes Leps. "We have generally forgotten about the calf from the time it's weaned until it goes into the feedlot. However, we're dealing with a period of 100 to 200 days in which we can put 200 to 400 pounds on a calf. This segment of the industry hasn't received much attention, so we're trying to fill that void with our trade show."

The Texas Stocker Calf Trade Show is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System, the Falls County Beef and Forage Council, and allied animal agriculture industries.

business of hiring someone to handle and store your business details opens a Pandora's box of leaks that is beyond understanding.

Just the other day CBS was bitterly complaining that NBC had accidentally, or on purpose, swiped some T&V tapes of world news such as Grenada, the Korean war, or something similar. This was done by simply plugging into the pictures and stuff via satellites. We read the other day where a fellow found a competitor busy with a computer scanning his super secret items.

The situation is so bad no one really knows how bad it is. When inactive bank accounts can be rifled, and when

The shock waves travellin' around when folks find out the confidential information and business secrets ain't confidential or secret at all play video games on and becomes a deadly menace to anybody hooked up to one and also to phone lines, satellites, or what not. Apparently there are no controls, since there is no licensing, or way of knowing who has what kind of gadget or what their intentions may be, much less what their capabilities or motives may be.

According to what we have read about the matter of computer crime there are only a handful of people around who have any inkling as to how electronic spying and theft might somehow be averted and controlled. We understand that some institutions, banks for instance, limit what each computer person can do and do not let anyone have complete access to the machinery. However, there is no way they can keep several people from pooling their accesses and still robbin' the bank.

There is a great deal of controversy over piracy of films, recordings, etc., and according to available information these type of thieves are suspected of making more money out of these things than the folks who produce 'em. The shock waves travellin' around when folks find out the confidential information and business secrets ain't confidential or secret at all makes us wonder if this electronic stuff ain't one of the worst beds of quick sand our civilization has ever stepped into.

Ever thine,
The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says th' recent experience of the cattlemen, hawg men and consumers in their efforts to get Congress to revise th' new Dairy legislation, certainly shows how Political Action Committees can dole out millions of money and buy enough Congressmen to get what they want. Perhaps, th' cowmen and pork producers need to either organize a stout PAC of their own and if they have one to put more money into it. In legislative matters it is a truism, Money Talks! Dunk says th' news that keeps comin' out about th' bad & sad loans them Bankers have been hooked with in furrin countries and wildcat oil loans and who knows what all, sure makes a fellow wonder. If a fellow could find any thing shakier than these so-called Under Developed Countries or wildcatting for oil and gas, Dunk says he ain't heard about it. Five Bull Sales Announced For 1984

Quitman, Tx.-Five All-Breed Bull Sales have been announced for early 1984 beginning January 14 at Nixon, Texas; January 21 at El Campo, Texas; January 28 at Lometa, Texas; February 11 at Mt. Vernon, Texas; and February 25 at Longview, Texas.

Gayle Ingram, sale manager for the 5 sales pointed out that "our marketing survey has proven that the average producer likes to purchase their bulls within a 75 mile radius of their operation and the demand for bulls accelerates as it gets closer to turnout time. These sales have a definite purpose. First, it gives the breeder that does not have the volume of bulls to have their own sale, a good place to market bulls with respect and credibility; second, it gives the producer the opportunity to select his bulls near home. This eliminates the big expense of time and travel."

Washington, Nov. 10 (USDA) - Corn and Grain production forecast at 4.12 billion bushels (105 million metric tons), less than half of last year's record high and down 3% from October 1. The 90% confidence interval for this 1983 production forecast is 3.94 to 4.31 billion bushels.

Sorghum Grain production forecast at 482 million bushels (12.2 million metric tons), unchanged from last month but down 43% from last year.

Feed Grain production (corn, sorghum oats and barley combined) expected to total 136 million metric tons, down 47% from last year. Soybean production forecast at 1.54 billion bushels (41.8 million metric tons), 1% more than October 1 but 31% below last year. The 90% confidence interval for the 1983 production forecast is 1.48 to 1.61 billion bushels.

Oilseeds production (soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts, flaxseed and sunflower combined) is expected to total 47.6 million metric tons, down 31% from last year. - Crop Reporting Board USDA.

Texas Crops In Sharp Decline

Austin - Texas Upland cotton production dropped to 2.2 million bales, based on Nov. 1 conditions, off 18% from last year and the smallest crop since 1946. According to figures released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, harvested acres for 1983 are forecast at 3.3 million, down 23% from last year.

Strong grower participation in the PIK program, above normal abandonment from drought, and recent flooding and hail damage on the High Plains have reduced harvested acreage across the state.

State Statistician Dennis Findley reported that yield for the 1983 Upland crop is expected to average 320 pounds per acre, compared with 301 a year ago.

Texas sorghum producers expect to harvest 87.3 million hundredweight (cwt.), a drop of 45% from last year, and the smallest crop since 1953. Harvest on the Plains has been slowed by the wet conditions, and many producers are worried that more harvest delays will reduce yields in some areas.

Corn production is unchanged from the October estimate at 112.7 million bushels. This is off 6% from a year ago. Rice production along the Texas coast is forecast at 16.7 million cwt., 25% below last year.

Harvest of the second crop rice is underway, although cool weather has slowed maturity and harvest conditions have been poor, Findley noted.

Peanut production is expected to total 322.5 million pounds, down 1% from last year. Soybean production, at 9.2 million bushels, is down 61% from the 1982 record crop.

Nationally, Upland cotton production is forecast at 7.4 million bales, down 37% from a year ago. Sorghum production has dropped 43% from last year to 269.9 million cwt., while corn production is projected at 4.1 million bushels, less than half of last year's record high crop.

Tex. A&M University System. This outlook stems from the latest cattle-on-feed report issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The report points toward lower fed beef supplies for the rest of this quarter and on into the first part of 1984, notes Dr. Ed Uvacek.

"With feeders facing higher feed grain costs this winter and currently registering losses, it's easy to see why the incentive to feed cattle is lacking," Uvacek says. "It will take a radical change in the price of feed cattle to drastically alter that feeder attitude."

Ultimately, he says, these lower placement levels will mean reduced fed cattle marketings for the first half of 1984. That should bring higher fed cattle prices and could boost prices at the supermarket. Fed cattle prices could even improve sooner, points out the economist. In fact, the market could run around in a matter of weeks and that would radically change feedlot operator attitudes.

"It is unlikely that placements will increase enough to cause any real problems for feeders (overproduction) by the first quarter of 1984," Uvacek adds. "Thus, any price gains through the rest of this year likely will carry into 1984, with some additional price strengthening then."

Feedlot operators estimated a 1% reduction in fed cattle marketings for the final quarter of this year even though weight groupings showed that only the heaviest steers on feed were above last year's level on Oct. 1. This suggests that any increase in fed cattle marketings may have already taken place by mid-October. "That should help supplies quite light for the rest of the year and promote a 'bullish' outlook for next year," Uvacek points out.

Wittenburg Named 1983 Beefmaster Breeder Of The Year

Hans Wittenburg, Beefmaster breeder from Edna, Texas, has been named 1983 Beefmaster Breeder of the Year by Beefmaster Breeders Universal (BBU). The prestigious award was presented during the BBU annual convention, held last month in New Orleans, La.

The Wittenburg ranch is a family operation, encompassing 1,100 acres with a total of 850 head of Beefmasters. Wittenburg's son Joe works as ranch manager and son Randy and ranch manager also active in the operation. Since the herd was started in 1970, Wittenburg has worked toward improvement with each generation. The success of this program is evidenced by the increase in sale averages through the years. In 1979 Wittenburg Ranch participated with five other Texas Beefmaster Breeders in the Super Six Sale, where the Wittenburg offering averaged $2,062. In 1980 the ranch joined in the first Texas Premium Seed Stock Sale, averaging more than $9,400 on 30 1/2 lots. The most recent Texas Premium Sale featured 21 3/4 Wittenburg lots, which averaged nearly $15,000.

Wittenburg has been a director and has held various offices in the Lone Star and South Texas Beefmaster Breeders Associations. He has been actively involved with BBU since 1972 and has served on most of the BBU committees, including service as chairman of the Advertising and Public Relations, Breed Improvement and Executive Sales Committees. In 1978 he was elected to the BBU Board of Directors. He was elected BBU secretary in 1979; he served as vice president in 1978; and from 1979-1981 he was president of BBU. For the past two years, he has been the Executive Officer of the BBU Board of Directors.

The 1983 Beefmaster Breeder of the Year Award cited Wittenburg for his contributions to the breed through his cattle breeding efforts and his work with BBU.

RRC Cuts Greyhound Rate Increase Request

Austin — The Railroad Commission has reduced a 15 percent rate increase sought by Greyhound Lines Inc., approving a 6.4 percent increase in fares and rates. The new charges will apply to most bus companies providing the same services in the state.

Greyhound originally asked the Commission to approve a 15 percent increase in passenger fares and express rates and a 25.7 percent increase in charter coach charges. Today's Commission action allows the 6.4 percent increase for all these categories.

The new rates and charges will give Greyhound an operating ratio of 90 percent, according to the RRC's Transportation Division staff. The operating ratio is the ratio of total operating expenses (all expenses except taxes and interest) to total operating revenue. Testimony from other bus companies was also studied by the Commission. The staff also noted that the Commission could later investigate the rates if the labor costs of the affected bus companies begin to decrease.

Feeders Posted 4th Week Of Gains

NEWS about LIMOUSIN

Limousin Breed Up 12 Percent In 1982-83

The North American Limousin Foundation (NALF), Denver, Colo., reported a 12 percent increase in both new registrations and transfers for the 1982-83 fiscal year.

According to Dr. Greg Martin, NALF executive vice president, the association registered 49,182 new animals and processed 33,183 transfers during the fiscal year that ended Aug. 31.

The breakdown of new registrations by percentage presents a good picture of where the breed, which was introduced in North America only 15 years ago, stands in its development.

When the Limousin Foundation was formed in 1968, French cattle were not eligible for importation into the United States. However, Canada did accept the imports after a strict quarantine program, and semen from Canadian bulls could be shipped throughout North America.

As a result, the Limousin breed founders adopted a policy which allowed the recording of low percentage heifers (37 percent) and bulls (50 percent). This policy allowed breeders to begin with foundation cows (no Limousin blood) and upgrade to purebred Limousin by using Limousin bulls for several generations.

This year's figures show that the policy is fulfilling its intent. Of the Limousin cattle recorded during the past year, 82 percent were in the purebred category, 82 percent were seven-eighths Limousin, 19 percent were three-quarter bloods, 18 percent were half-bloods and only 8 percent were less than one-half Limousin.

After only 15 years, Limousin is coming into maturity as a cattle breed in the United States. However, even with this new maturity, the breed continues to grow in numbers and popularity, as evidenced by a 14 percent increase in lifetime memberships and a 13 percent increase in junior memberships during the last year.

Martin attributes this steady growth to the fact that Limousin cattle work for the commercial man.

"Calving ease, good growth rate and feeder calves that bring a premium because of their ability to grow and stay lean have been the keys to our acceptance by the beef industry," Martin said.

Limousin Schedule Changed In Louisville

In a change from the past several years, the Limousin Open Show in Louisville will be held on a Saturday instead of the usual Friday. According to North American International Livestock Exposition officials, the show is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. on Nov. 19. Approximately 98 head of Limousin have been entered in the open show.

The Kentucky National Limousin Sale show also has moved to a new day and will be held at 9 a.m. on Friday, Nov. 18, followed by the sale at 2 p.m.

Nugent To Chair National Hazardous Liquid Pipeline Committee

Austin — Railroad Commissioner James E. (Gus) Nugent has been reappointed chairman of a federal committee to improve the safety of interstate pipelines which carry hazardous liquid products.

"Texas has over 80,000 miles of hazardous liquid pipelines, by far the most in the nation," Nugent noted. "These pipelines traverse the entire state, but are particularly dense in the heavily populated areas around Houston and along the Gulf coast."

In recent years, Texas has made important strides in protecting our citizens from the transportation of hazardous substances. However, the problems associated with these activities still deserve priority attention," Nugent said.

The Technical Hazardous-Liquid Pipeline Safety Standards Committee serves the Materials Transportation Bureau of the Department of Transportation and is primarily concerned with reviewing rules and regulations governing the safe transportation of hazardous liquids through interstate pipelines.

Nugent, one of five governmental representatives to serve on the committee, has been named chairman of the body since its inception in 1980.
